

WHY WE RECOMMEND ANNUAL BLOOD WORK

Pets can't say how they're feeling—it's usually how they look or act that tells you something is wrong.

Blood testing goes a step further, showing us the earliest signs of illness, often before your pet even seems to be sick.

Annual blood testing gives us insights that we might not otherwise discover. Treating your pet early can help with a better outcome and lower treatment costs, too.

